

Starlight Stadium: List of Badges

The full list of badges explains the achievements and awards students can collect in each episode and their connection to the learning objectives. They also entail potential for discussion and comparison, encouraging players to reflect on their choices and how those choices align with the objectives.

Each badge has its own name. Before the badge is earned, players are given a hint through a pre-description framing the challenge. The post-description appears after earning the badge, explaining the achievement and reinforcing the applicable learning objective.

EPISODE 1

Initial Assessment of the Human Rights Situation

Mission	Badge Name	Pre-Description	Post-Description	Applicable Learning Objective
1	Quick Thinking	When time's limited, you have to make quick decisions.	You alerted someone that you were heading into a dangerous situation.	Application of security protocols when entering a risky situation.
2	You Shall Not Pass(word)	"Password" is the wrong answer here...	You showed Aleks you know how to make a secure password.	Knowledge of password protection best practices.
3	Principle Investigator	The people aren't always right.	You understood all the fundamentals of human rights principles.	Review fundamental principles of human rights.
3	Absolute Limits	What's the difference between the two types of rights?	You showed an understanding of limited and absolute rights.	Understand the differences between limited and absolute rights.
4	Obligatory	How much responsibility does the state have here?	You know the state's key obligations to human rights.	Connect human rights standards to real world scenarios.
4	The Relevant Standards	Correctly match the evidence to the human rights at stake.	You figured out the right rights for each piece of evidence.	Review the nature of state obligations.

EPISODE 2 MISSION 1

Interviewing

Badge Name	Pre-Description	Post-Description	Applicable Learning Objective
Security First	Your means of communication matters	You communicated with your interlocutor through secure channels	Application of safety and security related to communication protocols.
Set the Scene	Consider your interview location carefully	You chose a safe and sensible meeting place for your interview	Application of safety and security related to location of meetings.
Explain and Inform	It's always worth explaining your mission and motivations	You obtained informed consent from your interlocutor	Pursuit of informed consent with your interlocutor.
Establish Trust	Trust must be earned before it can be relied upon	You established trust with your interlocutor and gained more information as a result	Establishment of trust through interview techniques.
Question Time	Different methods of obtaining information can have different results	You asked open-ended questions that allowed your interlocutor to speak freely, without interference	Selection of strong, open-ended interview questions.
Know What to Look For	What do you actually want to know?	You asked clarifying, focused questions and gained pertinent information as a result	Understand the importance of keeping focus.
Alone Time	Always better to keep your interview circle small	You created a private and safe environment to conduct your interview	Establishment of safe conditions for your interlocutor.
Trust and Consent	Interviews always have some requirements	You established trust and obtained informed consent with your interlocutor	Understand the joint need to establish trust and obtain informed consent.
Don't Blame and Shame	Pointed questions can raise unwanted emotions	You asked an open, trauma-sensitive question to your interlocutor	Knowledge of trauma-informed interviewing questions.
Direct Path	Be aware of tangential discussions	You stuck to a direct line of questioning and gained more information as a result	Understand the importance of keeping focus.
Empathetic Awareness	When emotions are strong, react appropriately	You gave your interlocutor time and space to gather their emotions during a difficult moment	Knowledge of wider trauma-informed interviewing techniques.
Helping Hand	What kind of assistance would be most appropriate?	You provided a referral to your interlocutor, ensuring that your assistance was pragmatic and authentic	Provision of a referral to relevant services to your interlocutor.

EPISODE 2 MISSION 2

Direct Observation

Badge Name	Pre-Description	Post-Description	Applicable Learning Objective
Define a Threat	Explore the "who", "what", and "how"	You correctly defined assets, threats, and their relevant considerations	Understand basic threat modelling concepts.
Likelihood versus Impact	Assess risk and be pragmatic	You assessed risks based on their likelihood and potential impact	Understand how to use a risk-assessment matrix.
Measurable Mitigation	What can be done about it?	You identified appropriate mitigation measures for different potential risks	Identify appropriate mitigation measures for different risks.
Pack Right	Think about what could be useful	You safely selected which items to bring and which to leave behind	Consider safety and security when preparing for direct observation.
Decision to Leave	Consider your exit strategy carefully	You assessed the scene and picked the safest exit routes	Application of safety and security considerations on the go.
Pitch Perfect	Interactions and interlocutors matter	You considered the impact of your interlocutor and picked the most context-appropriate pitch	Interact safely with new people you encounter.
Analyse the Scene	What do you see?	You accurately appraised the photos for their applicability to your monitoring mission	Analyse photos and identify their relevance to your aims.
Yes, And	Good improvisation can make a big difference	You improvised on the spot and safely handled a new interaction	Interact safely with new people you encounter.
Perfect Run	Avoid all of the pitfalls and persist	You successfully avoided all potential obstacles through planning and foresight	Applied all concepts correctly the first time around.

EPISODE 3 MISSION 1

Verification

Badge Name	Pre-Description	Post-Description	Applicable Learning Objective
Focused Filter	You've got to know what you're looking for	You effectively gathered information without wasting too much time	Apply sensible web research skills.
A Little Help From Your Friends	When things don't go your way, who can lend a hand?	You improvised when the FOI request went unanswered, and gained valuable information as a result	Understand the various means through which information can be corroborated.
Be Specific	Accuracy is key	Your specific, targeted, and professional FOI request had to be honoured by the Police	Learn how to correctly submit FOI requests.
Consent Matters	It's always worth explaining your mission and motivations	You remembered that soliciting informed consent from your interlocutors is an interview's first priority	Pursuit of informed consent with your interlocutor.
My Lips are Sealed	Confidentiality should not be taken lightly	You prioritised the Whistleblower's wishes for anonymity and security	Application of principles of confidentiality, do no harm, and digital security.
Objective Perspective	Let's avoid making a clouded judgement	You evaluated source reliability and considered your own biases	Assess reliability of sources and personal biases.
Verification Expert	How strong do your claims need to be?	You accurately assessed the strength of claims to determine whether they're verified and learned how to use them further	Learn to verify information.

EPISODE 3 MISSION 2

Analysis

Badge Name	Pre-Description	Post-Description	Applicable Learning Objective
Letter of the Law	Which laws are relevant?	You effectively learned how to perform a legality test	Understand concepts/methodology that underlie the legality test.
Too Legit	Beware of the wide range of interpretations	You effectively learned how to perform a legitimacy test	Understand concepts/methodology that underlie the legitimacy test.
Proportionality Scholar	Be thorough and realistic	You effectively learned how to perform a proportionality test	Understand concepts/methodology that underlie the proportionality test.
Legal Eagle	Methodology can only take you so far	You applied your knowledge of legality onto a specific example	Complete a legality test.
Legitimized	Be on the lookout for exceptional circumstances	You applied your knowledge of legitimacy onto a specific example	Complete a legitimacy test.
In the Balance	Apply your judgements fairly	You applied your knowledge of proportionality onto a specific example	Complete a proportionality test.
Know your Rights	Who could be impacted?	You identified who is impacted by these human rights violations	Identify the rights-holders in the given human rights situation.
Dereliction of Duty	Consider all the angles	You identified who is responsible for these human rights violations	Identify the duty-bearers in the given human rights situation.

EPISODE 3 MISSION 3

Report Writing

Badge Name	Pre-Description	Post-Description	Applicable Learning Objective
Abstract, not Blurb	Say everything you want to say	You clearly and concisely included everything relevant to the report in your Executive Summary	Understand what makes an effective Executive Summary.
Gender Matters	Is everyone affected in the same way?	You mainstreamed gender considerations into the report	Understand the importance of gender mainstreaming.
Name Drop	Informed consent can be conditional	You respected the conditions of Toni's consent and didn't put him in harm's way	Respect conditions of your interlocutor's informed consent.
Stick to the Facts	Are you being objective or subjective?	You avoided making unfounded judgements and protected your credibility	Application of principles of credibility and objectivity.
Hedge your Bets	Word choice can have a drastic effect on meaning	You used clear language to indicate the unverified status of certain claims	Understand the importance of language in reports.
Ambiguity Encumbers	Best to limit unfavourable interpretations from the get-go	You crafted recommendations that were Specific	Craft Specific recommendations (under SMART model).
How will you know?	What can help you monitor if your recommendations are implemented?	You crafted recommendations that were Measurable and Time-Bound	Craft Measurable and Time-bound recommendations (under SMART model).
Only What's Possible	I mean, I guess we could try to make that work...	You crafted recommendations that were Achievable/Attainable	Craft Achievable/Attainable recommendations (under SMART model).
Be Relevant	Think about what actually matters in this situation	You crafted recommendations that were Relevant	Craft Relevant recommendations (under SMART model).

EPISODE 4

Advocacy

Badge Name	Pre-Description	Post-Description	Applicable Learning Objective
Who cares?	Think about stakeholders in terms of their access and influence	You correctly placed the actors in the correct quadrants on the stakeholder grid	Understand the practice of stakeholder mapping.
The Good Ending	Manage all competing factors during the advocacy campaign	You ran a strong campaign and managed the wellbeing of your colleagues too	Implement an advocacy strategy while managing resources and capacity.
Press Secretary	50% of a meeting is just setting it up	Your work building a list of media contacts paid off with an effective press conference	Understand the importance of planning effectively in advance.
Never Read the Comments	Do you really want anyone in the world to be able to send you a private message?	You prepared the staff's social media accounts and avoided getting a lot of harassment	Learn to effectively respond to digital security risks.
Stick to the Facts	Let's avoid getting emotional here...	You talked to the Mayor directly and helpfully, and avoided putting her on the defensive.	Conduct effective meetings with authorities.
Don't plug that in!	What would Aleks do?	You prepared the staff in digital security best practices, and avoided a very embarrassing incident with an infected USB.	Learn to effectively respond to digital security risks.
Spider Sense	Learn to be aware of your surroundings	You prepared the staff with situational awareness, and helped Jules in a tricky situation.	Learn to effectively respond to physical safety risks.
Caught on Camera	Security footage is worth 1000 words	You prepared the building with security cameras, and were able to report Jules' stalkers to the police	Learn to effectively respond to physical safety risks.
The most important thing...	You can't help anyone else if you don't take care of yourself first	You prioritised Jules' well-being above completing work assignments.	Understand the importance of prioritising well-being.

EPISODE 4

Advocacy

Badge Name	Pre-Description	Post-Description	Applicable Learning Objective
Coordinated Effort	Talk to the right people, in the right way, at the right time	You raised awareness and influenced enough stakeholders to bring the petition to the Parliament.	Learn about the use of petitioning as an effective advocacy tool.
Friends in high places	Win someone important over by clearly presenting a path forward	You met with the parliamentarian and made the most of your time by outlining clear, achievable goals.	Conduct effective meetings with authorities.
Phrasing!	Pick the most effective message.	You chose a campaign message that's both positive and actionable.	Understand the importance of language in advocacy.